Tim Waters

As founding member of the band "8 Second Ride", singer/songwriter Tim Waters established a fan base and launched a career in country music. Tim started in his home state of North Carolina opening shows for country stars such as Keith Urban, Kenny Chesney, Toby Keith, Brooks and Dunn, Tracy Byrd and many others. In 2003, Tim made it through several rounds of nationwide competition to earn a finalist spot on the "Nashville Star" show, aired on the USA Network, and finished in the top 15. Since his move to Nashville, Tim has been writing and recording his original songs. As a singer, guitar and fiddle player, he has performed for thousands of people across the country. Tim just completed his first Nashville-produced album of original songs in November 2009.

Buck McCoy

Buck McCoy, an accomplished guitarist and songwriter, broke on to the national scene on the highly rated network show "Performing As" paying tribute to one of his favorite Country stars, Tim McGraw. Buck is a phenomenal entertainer who mixes a bold stage presence with a tremendous sense of humor.

Buck's musical skills and stage presence will provide a fabulous show that will entertain audiences of all ages.

Eddie King

Eddie King was born in Bunker Hill, Tn., outside of Nashville. Worked in Nashville area as well as Hilton Head,S.C., Virgin Islands Cruise lines, Chattanooga, Tn., with different artists and tours. Now proud to be working in Nashville, Tn. on Broadway for FANS of

GREAT CLASSIC COUNTRY MUSIC!!

These are some of the finest musicians in the world, and don't forget the great bar staff, managers and club owners. It's been my pleasure and privilege to work with each of them. My shows are rated PG (that's pre-Garth).

Come see the show....holler and swoller!!!!

Goldy Locks

Former pro wrestling personality and touring musician, Goldy Locks, is America's real everywoman ... and her multi-faceted life is prime fodder for endless non-fictional entertainment. Men want her. Women want to BE her ... and mothers want to take care and guide her!

She appeared on the CMT television series, "Running Wild with Ted Nugent" and she just returned from an Armed Forces Entertainment tour in Afghanistan where she and her band entertained US troops serving in harms way. She spent 6 years as a pro wrestling manager and interviewer with Spike TV's Total Nonstop Action Wrestling. She has opened shows for some of the biggest names in rock including Saliva, Sevendust, Nickelback, 3 Doors Down.

Smoke 'n Guns

Once you see Smoke 'n Guns in action, you'll be left with an experience you will never forget. The phrases "high energy" and "dynamic duo" hardly do these girls justice. Alecia Arnall's blues/rock 'n roll tone pairs magically with Lindsay Bowman's pop/country voice. During their show, you will hear anything from Carrie Underwood and Jason Aldean to Adele and Nicki Minaj. This duo definitely has so... mething for everyone!

To date, the band has drawn a large following. Currently, Smoke 'n Guns are performing Alecia's original music during their sets, but they are continuing to write songs together to take on the road in the summer of 2012. The girls are looking forward to meeting all of their fans across the country and leaving you with a show you won't forget.

Marie McGilvray

Singer-songwriter Marie McGilvray taught herself to play guitar when she was 9 and penned her first song when she was 11. To her fan base, Marie is known for her moving, soul-stirring songs and performances. While her ethereal pop/alternative rock sound has been compared to Kate Bush, Sarah McLachlan, Jane Sibbery and Portishead, her writing style and reedy, airy vibrato voice offer an original and intriguing sound.

Melanie Shelley

If Melanie Shelley knew what fate would throw her way while she realized her musical life, she would thought more than twice about following her talent. A mystical woman from a tiny desert town, she has given birth, cheated death, been excommunicated and impaled, gone financially boom and bust, found and lost husbands, tussled with faith and made peace with it.

Nathan Douglas

Nathan is a singer/songwriter from Jamestown, TN.

He grew up singing along with his father to southern gospel music and fell in love with country music listening to greats like Keith Whitley, Randy Travis, Waylon Jennings, Vern Gosdin, and Johnny Cash.

In addition to country music he has also been influenced by southern rock, bluegrass and Christian music. Nathan has spent several years performing for youth groups and other church functions in East Tennessee and many well known honky tonks in Nashville. It's time to follow his dream of singing and writing country music on a bigger level
